Over 1,300 city orchestra students gather for festival tonight at Arena

By Rob Schlingens

Over 1,300 musicians from Sioux Falls schools will congregate at the Sioux Falls Arena for an end-of-the-year performance tonight.

The All-City Orchestra Festival will consist of orchestra students from the elementary level to seniors in high school.

The students met at the Arena this morning to rehearse for this evening's concert. This final preparation will allow them to become familiar with the surroundings. The event will feature 60 orchestra members from WHS.

Orchestra director Karla Nipp said she thinks tonight's concert will be memorable for all performing and in attendance.

"I'm looking forward to it," Nipp said. "There is nothing like the sound of 1,300 string players in unison."

Those who plan to attend should be reminded tickets are not being sold at the door. Tickets must be bought in advance at the Instructional Planning Center, 201 E. 38th St.

Students invited to celebrate end of year today

By Tim Anderson

The student body will be treated to a party celebrating the end of the school year this afternoon from 3-7 p.m.

A variety of entertainment will be available including jousting, sumo wrestling, an obstacle course and a "bungee bull." Concessions will be sold and free soda and breadsticks will be served. Door prizes, including a basketball hoop, will be given. Students must sign up for the drawing as they enter.

The event is sponsored by First Priority, a Christian fellowship organization. The group raised money for the party by fundraising with the participation of businesses.

Senior Jordan Nordquist, a student leader of the group, said First Priority has been looking forward to the event.

"We are excited about the event, it is going to be an awesome time to celebrate our hard work in school this past year," Nordquist said. "I hope everyone knows they are welcome to join the fun."

Tennis team travels to Roosevelt for last dual of season

By JJ Heyden

The Warrior boys tennis team will be in action today as they travel to Roosevelt to take on the Rough Riders at 4 p.m.

The Warriors are coming off of action in the Greater Dakota Conference tournament Friday and Saturday in Rapid City. Tuesday's match with O'Gorman was cancelled due to inclement weather.

Junior Justin Wehde said he believes the team will be successful tonight.

"I think we will probably do good tonight," Wehde said. "It's been hard to practice lately with the rain. We won the last time that we played Roosevelt, so we are confident."

Senior Steve Holzwarth said he also thinks the team will be successful.

"We are trying to get tuned up for the state tournament next weekend," he said.

The state meet is set for May 22-24 in Sioux Falls.
